Dear Editor,

The Planning Commission of Carroll Township, at the October 18, 1990 meeting, continued to consider the Land Development Plan for Dillsburg Shopping Center, proposed for the intersection of Ore Bank Road and Route 15. It seems that they have not resolved some of the items listed at their August 16th meeting. Two of the items which are a problem is the drainage which will affect the residents living along the drainage area in Carroll Manor and the traffic light on Rt. 15 which will not be guaranteed. I doubt whether either engineer - Mr. Heine for the Township or Jerry Stahlman engineer for Frank Nardo developer - have surveyed the residents in Carroll Manor. Mr. Stahlman is putting his strength for the traffic light on the study which was taken at hours which would not be peak times of traffic. The Township engineer, Heine, says he is not qualified to interpret the study, but it doesn't take an expert to tell that the times of most traffic are the most dangerous times, and that's when the traffic count should be taken.

The members of the Planning Commission who were at this meeting: Beth Desiderai, Charles Hartman, Ed Andrews, George Cashman, Tom Carl, William Gore, and James Creavey. Three voted against an approval at this time-Desiderai, Carl and Gore-they are the ones who have put a lot of time of study into the plan and are eager to have public input. The Planning Commission could have a Public Hearing. The others are not impressed by public opinion and apparently are not concerned about the safety to those in the community who are exposed daily to these traffic problems which should be a prime concern. Also, from all the information which I can get-Jerry Stahlman did not submit an application to PennDOT for the traffic light! He says he will do this and that - but everything with a developer should be in legal documents. What happens if Mr. Nardo decides to sell, when he gets approval - the buyer will come in and do as he pleases! When we have developers who have no real concern for the community and only want to make money, who knows what will happen? The residents of Carroll Township must be concerned and show interest! We hear complaints and gripes - but we need involvement before these things happen.

Dear Editor:

I had been reading in some news reports that now the EPA is telling schools, etc. that it is likely not necessary to remove asbestos in fact that it might be more hazardous to remove it than just let it alone. Then I received the latest AIM Report published by Accuracy in Media, Inc. with the title, "The Real Asbestos Horror Story." For one thing, there are three types of asbestos, blue which is a serious health hazard but makes up about 2.5% of use, brown not nearly as hazardous making up about 2.5% of use and white making up the other 95%. There is no evidence that white causes lung cancer when exposure is moderate - even to those mining it. All asbestos used in consumer products is white. This is only a small part of the report.

I would like to quote a section of the report that tells of a real tragedy which needlessly came about because of this "asbestos panic."

"Many manufacturers were forced or cowed into abandoning using asbestos in their products even though it posed no hazard. Columnist Warren Brookes of the Detroit News has pointed out that this probably brought about the Challenger space shuttle disaster in 1986. An asbestos-based putty produced by the Fuller O'Brien Paint Co. had been used, together with O-rings, to seal joints in the booster rockets. They quit making the putty because of the new requirements regulating the use of asbestos, and a less effective putty was substituted. NASA reported in 1985 that after the putty was changed four of the first 12 shuttle flights experienced O-ring erosion from superheated gases that should have been stopped by the putty. It predicted possible launch failure as a result. Brookes noted that the National Research Council panel on redesign of the booster rockets agreed that 'the inability of the (new) putty...reliably to effect a pressure seal' was a major problem. Malcolm Ross of the U.S. Geological Survey, who pioneered in the fight for sanity on asbestos, told Brookes, 'There is no doubt in my mind that the Challenger disaster was caused by asbestos paranoia.'

And yet our national government keeps passing stupid and senseless regulatory laws creating more bureaucratic turmoil. When will the American people rise up and finally demand that the government get off our back.

Dear Editor,

For those of you who do not know, Robert F. Bostic is the athletic director of Northern Senior High School. He has held this position for about 20 years. Over the past seven years I have been directly involved with Northern athletics, and during this time Mr. Bostic has not performed as a desirable athletic director should act.

Since 1988 Mr. Bostic has been trying to promote school spirit. When the push for spirit first began, many of my friends and I took that to heart. We painted our faces purple and white for the East Penn vs. Northern football game at home. This band of 30 cheering, chanting kids got the students and parents into the game, but Mr. Bostic suddenly changed his attitude about spirit. He had the "rent-a-cops" disband us because "our spirit was giving East Penn fans the wrong idea about the conduct of students at games." Does Mr. Bostic want to encourage school spirit? I think he just wants to avoid active participation in the spirit push.

Within the past several years, Northern has produced some excellent athletes, such as Frank Ryan, Burt Cashman, Brian Newman, Teresa Clark, Nancy Jacoby, and Michelle Mayhew. Their athletic ability came to nothing when it was time for college recruiting. Our school's athletes have to be high school all-Americans for coaches to talk to them. Instead of only one just mid-State all-stars, our athletic director does not "sell" them to a scholarship institution. Does Mr. Bostic want to see Northern athletes participating in sports at the collegiate and maybe pro-level? I think Mr. Bostic should try to push for all Northern athletes.

Hopefully Mr. Bostic will take these points as constructive criticism. If our athletic director was to build upon these points, athletes, coaches, and parents alike would be pleased with his actions; however, if no action is taken, people who are involved with Northern athletics will be mumbling under their breath for years to come.

Franklin Township Board of Supervisors meeting

Engineer and SEO Grove said that the reports to the property owners having their wells tested will be sent out within the next two weeks.

Solicitor Errico reposted on the status of the Lutz case in Common Pleas Court. He said that a brief has been filed by the township for Judge Rauhauser claiming a total amount of $60,000.00 in contempt of court order and township expenses.

The minutes of the meeting of September 18, 1990 were approved as presented.

Officer Scott George presented the police report for September. The supervisors asked the police to check a property on Hickory Road in connection with the township junk yard ordinance.

Chairman Latsiokie, in the absence of a representative of the company, reviewed Franklintown Fire Company's written report. He also reviewed the minutes of the September 20th meeting of the Dillsburg Borough Authority.

Road inspection was rescheduled for Tuesday, October 20th beginning at 5 p.m.

The board agreed that a basic land development plan was needed by Mark Fitzgerald who is contemplating expanding his pottery shop.

The Board voted to disapprove the land development plan of John and Eileen Carnicle at 50 Pleasant View Road since it didn't meet the minimum lot size requirements.

The board voted to approve the Debbie Associates subdivision of two lots on Spring Drive.

The board disapproved the subdivision plan of Carl Zeigler consisting of two parcels located at 60 Memorial Drive due to the non-receipt of an approval of the sewage planning module from DER and placement or bonding of monuments.

The board voted to adopt a resolution to amend the township comprehensive sewage plan for the Vernon Anderson sewage planning module and to submit the same to DER, based on the township SEO review and approval.

The board disapproved Michael Keller subdivision of two parcels on Coffeetown Road and South Mountain Road.

The board did re-approve the land development plan of Kenneth-Lin Inc. on Coffeetown Road, noting that the necessary letter of credit and executed improvement agreement have been received by the township.

After discussion and review of past minutes and building permits and applications, the board, on motion of Lauri Stoughton and second of William Latsiokie, with all the supervisors voting yes, directed that Kevin Anderson be informed that it is necessary that he submit and have a land development plan approved for his property at 733 Range End Road since a duplex is being constructed on this location and to inform Building Permit Officer Eng of the same. With the provision that BPO Eng revoke the issued building permit.

The board voted to direct Building Permit Officer Eng to revoke a permit for a mobile home of Mr. Halvorsen on Scotch Pine Road, his sewage permit having expired (and no system having been installed) and to direct Mr. Hawvaivey that, if he wishes to leave the mobile home on the site, he will need to reapply for a sewage permit and if this should be issued, he can then apply for another building permit.

The board voted to make the following donations: $1500.00 to the Dillsburg Senior Citizens, $3,000.00 to the Dillsburg Library, $2,000.00 to New Hope Ministries, $5,000.00 each to Franklintown Fire Company, Citizens Hose Co. Dillsburg and Ambulance Association and to divide the $12,248.03 received equally between the Firemen's Relief Association of Citizens Hose Co. and Franklintown Fire Company.

Purple Haze

by Chris Flohr

Farmers Fair is now behind us, and the students at NHS have a full month of nothing but school staring them straight in the face. No holidays or staff days, weekends are the only outlets now. The cold weather even set in this week, so the days of shorts and t-shirts are definitely numbered. The only thing to look forward to now is Thanksgiving vacation.

The football team picked up another win this past Friday at home against Lower Dauphin. It was a great all-around job by the entire squad. The defense rushed in on an extra, added incentive. One assistant coach, Mr. Brian Wilson, or Mook, as the players know him, bet the defensive team that he'd get a "buzz" haircut if they shut out the Falcons. Well, the final score read 7-0, Bears. To fulfill his end of the wager, the next time the players saw Coach Wilson, he had a little less hair.

One reprieve to the solid month of school is Halloween. Halloween is possibly the most fun holiday for high school students. So we won't get a day off, but the whole school day is filled with practical jokes and tasteless pranks. Also, there are those high school students who still go trick-or-treating. I don't think there's any crime in that. Students still have that sweet tooth. Besides, some of us like to get dressed in odd and funny looking costumes.

Farmers' Fair seemed to get even bigger this year than last. The food was excellent, as usual, the weather was great for October, and the parade was entertaining. The emcee, Mr. Jan Wiley, was great also. He's one of the best we've had in a few years. You'll get no complaints from Yours Truly on this weekend. Everything went just as planned.

The fall sports season is coming to a close soon. The soccer team had a playoff game this week. Good luck in the postseason, guys. The field hockey team finished its season on Tuesday, and the only cross country meets remaining are the district and state meets. Good luck to everyone still playing a sport and to those training for the winter sports.

Third annual Eastern Museum of Motor Racing auction

Stan Lobitz will present the 3rd annual indoor motor racing memorabilia auction swap meet, and movie party for the enjoyment of racing's old timers and collectors from everywhere on Sunday, November 18, 1990 from 9 a.m. until midnight at the Lobitz Catering Hall on Rt. 940 in Hazleton, Pa. The auctioning begins at 1 p.m. Admission is free.

Collectors can bid on a 1970s AMC stock car with a 8 cylinder Ford engine and another was this past Friday at home against Lower Dauphin. It was a great all-around job by the entire squad. The defense rushed in on an extra, added incentive. One assistant coach, Mr. Brian Wilson, or Mook, as the players know him, bet the defensive team that he'd get a "buzz" haircut if they shut out the Falcons. Well, the final score read 7-0, Bears. Weekly HEALTH TIP
EXCESSIVE EXERCISE
Can excessive exercise reduce immunity to illness? A study of the 2,300 runners who registered for the 1987 L.A. Marathon found that 13% of those who actually ran the marathon came down with colds, flu, or sore throat within a week, compared to 2% of those that trained but didn't compete. Those who trained strenuously, running 60 miles per week, were twice as likely to become sick as those who ran less than 20 miles per week. Moderation in exercise seems more healthful.
